spee's Hand in Ventura County Politics-Divided Sentiment in Orange County-Gov. Gage on Economy-Legislative Grist.

IBY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] SACRAMENTO, Feb. 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Assemblyman C. B. Greenwell of Hueneme deserted the Grant forces today, in the joint convention, and went over to Bard, but there was no such a scene as followed the treacherous desertion of Bulla by Simpson. Greenwell is an employé of Bard's, and has long been restless because he had had no chance to cast a complimentary vote for his old-time friend. He has been told by the Grant people that he should have that opportunity, and as early as a week ago tomorrow he stated that he would take the step, unless some change took place in Grant's vote.

Last night it became known to all sides that Greenwell, if he were well enough to be present, would vote for his friend, though the Burns people expected him to take another Grant man with him. There was no disturbance, and only a momentary hush when Greenwell announced his vote. The only hitch in the convention occurred when Pierce, a Burns men, who was paired with Capt. Milice, a Grant man, now in the southern part of the State, found that he had been paired by the Burns people with another absentee. He was finally voted to the satisfaction of all concerned, though he strongly demurred to breaking his word given to Milice.

The roll call showed only eighty-three members voting, and for the first time Burns stood on an even footing with Grant in balloting, each having 20 votes.

The convention was listless, and adourned on Leavitt's motion, without evincing any desire to have another

Greenwell's leave-taking, coming so soon after Simpson's flop, caused a bad impression among those who did not understand the situation. While he intended, as stated, to change to Bard, he was prompted to take the step today by the advices from Ventura that a call had been issued for a meeting of the County Central Committee for this afternoon to instruct him to vote for Bard. As he did not desire to suffer the appearance of having been driven over, he obtained the consent of Mr. Grant and his managers to change his vote today, and they expect that he will return to them whenever his vote may be needed to Greenwell had a talk with Belshaw, in which they discussed the situation from a non-factional point of view Greenwell claiming that Bulla could have helped Grant to his election, and that if the Los Angeles mans votes and the Grant votes would now unite they can elect Bard. Or, he was willing to go into conference to elect a Republican Senator, throwing out all the candidates now being voted for. Belshaw, on his part, admitted that he did not believe Bulla could be elected, and that under the circumstances a conference of all the Republicans is the only proper thing.

Belshaw declared today that it would be impossible to get the members together with the understanding that they were to vote, but it would be possible to meet and talk the mater over. When asked what good that would do, unless all the members were prepared to sacrifice their particular candidates, he finally admitted that little could be accomplished without the caucus feature applying in some respects, and that the first consideration of the members entering such a conference should be the understanding to elect some candidate other than Burns, even if certain localities or legislators have to relinquish their preferences. Greenwell said today: "There have been no pledges binding me at any time, nor are there now, though the wishes of my county are for Bard. have known him a long time, and probably I know him better than any man in the Legislature. He has never said one word to me that I should vote for him, but I am actually fore now. I do not know how long I shall continue to vote for him, and give it to him at any time.'

The Bee tonight printed a list which Burns is said to be using to convince members whom he wants that he is certain of election. It contains the names of thirten Senators and thirty-those now voting for Burns, the following are included: Senators Mag gard and Trout, Grant supporters; Senators Dickinson and Morehouse, Barnes men, and Senator Flint, a Bard voter; Assemblymen Cargill, Dale, De Lancie, Merrill, Merritt and Radcliff, Grant men; Cosper, a Bulla shouter; Atherton, Knight and Muenter, all Barnes followers; Brown, a Felton advocate; Greenwell, a Bard backer, and Wade, an Estee supporter. The names of Knight and Radcliff are marked with an interrogation point, as if Col. Dan was doubtful about them, but there seems to be a pretty good guessing in respect to some of the others, if the majority of the Grant men named are excluded. the Democrats, it is claimed that Senators Feeney and Hall, and possibly Dwyer and Assemblyman Crowley all of San Francisco, will go to Burns, if needed. The corporate and admin-istration influences invoked by Burns are counted upon by him to these outstanding legislators into line. While there are no surface movements looking to a breaking of the deadlock, there is quite an undertow in that direction, and Senator Davis (Scottite,) Melick (Bullaite,) and some of the Grant managers are very active in a quiet way. There is a rumor on foot that Bulla will, before long, give up his political headquarters in the Golden Eagle Hotel, even as

senator Boyce Refuses to Be Lured from Grant. [BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 18.-[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Southern Pacific Railroad has again showed its hand in politics, and its machinations have taken a new turn. Pressure has been brought to bear to switch one of Grant's sturdiest supporters over to another candidate, and it has met with the contempt and defiance which it deserves.

Senator John J. Boyce of Ventura county, whose confrere, Assemblyman Greenwell, today voted for Bard for United States Senator, has flatly re-fused to regard the wishes of the rail-road bosses, and the efforts of the Ventura County Central Committee, so far as they coincide with the railroad's policy, have no effect on one of the ablest and most fearless men in the State Senate.

When the railroad's agents found that Bulla's usefulness in the way of disrupting Grant's Southern California forces had been largely overestimated, they set to work to pull down Grant's followers by other methods. One consequence of this is that the Ventura County Central Committee held a meeting today and sent the following telegram to Senator Boyce:

VENTURA (Cal.) Feb. 18 -Senator J. J. Boyce, Sacramento, Cal.: County Central Committee request you vote for and use all honorable means to se cure the election of Thomas R. Bard Resolution mailed. "J. H. MASON. [Signed]

"Secretary."
To this Senator Boyce sent the following ringing answer:

"SACRAMENTO (Cal.,) Feb. 18.—Republican County Central Committee, Ventura, Cal.: You are injuring the cause you falsely or ignorantly profess to promote. I take no orders from Dan Burns or Southern Pacific Railroad, even through your agency. Ventura County Republican Committee per-mitted me to be put on ticket when elected Senator by loyalty of Santa Barbara county, and Ventura county appointees were rewarded by Budd ad ministration. Hence I fail to see how your request should have weight. spect Thomas R. Bard too much to petray him.

"JOHN J. BOYCE." This manly refusal to betray a can-didate, whom he has been loyally sup-porting, is only what could be expected from Senator Boyce, and his action neets with the warmest commendaion in the Grant headquarters, while implying no reflection whatsoever upon Mr. Bard, whose wishes it is believed have not been consulted by the County Committee. Senator Boyce said tonight: "Ventura county is perfectly loyal to Mr. Bard, but there are certain leading spirits there, who depend upon railroad patronage, who ride on mileage tickets, and who have always received their orders from railroad headquarters. These men, from that distance, know nothing at all about the situation here, because, if they did, they would realize that their conduct now is suicidal to the success of any aspirations that Mr.

Bard may have. While Senator Boyce would not dis cuss the fight, which was made against him in Ventura county, it is believed that Orestes Orr, ex-State Senator, who recently visited this city, and W Barnes, who desires to be placed on the Paris Exposition Commission, both of whom are friendly to railroad interests are parties that have assisted in work up this plan to force Boyce out of the Grant camp, thus indirectly mak-ing another vote for Burns under pretense of booming Bard.

The whole movement The whole movement probably origi-nated with Tom Williams, Burns's Democratic colaborer, and Sam Leake, and the Call have been interested in circulating statements here that Green-well and Boyce would have to go to Bard. Greenwell has been an employe of Bard for several years, and hence his action in voting for Bard without waiting for the county committee to pass any resolutions on the subject, is easily explained. But in view of Boyce's courageous refusal to obey anyif my vote can elect Mr. Grant I will thing but the dictates of his thing but the dictates of his own conscience and judgment, at the be-hest of the County Central Committee, the injustice done him by the Call's asbecomes at once apparent is of the stuff that Grant's men are made of, and there is

Tom Reed Bent on Having His Own Way.

Throws Down the Gauntlet to the Administration.

Rupture Between the Speaker and the President.

Boss of the House Goes Out of His Way to Antagonize the Chief Executive-Movement on Foot to Dethrone the Czar.

IBY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.1 WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.-[Exclusive Dispatch.] Speaker Reed has had a complete and final falling out with the administration, and a war is on.

For some time past the Speaker has let it be known that he opposed almost every measure favored by the administration, from bills carrying out the policy of expansion to measures appropriating money for the actual running expenses of the changed conditions of the government.

Reed has gone into the fight with the determination of humiliating the administration, showing his absolute control over the House, and venting his bitter disappointment over his failure to get the Presidential nomination in 1896.

As the session progresses Reed eems to have grown more bitter, until he has now arrayed himself against the President. He won the first victory on the Nicaragua Canal, when he whipped a sufficient number of publicans into line to defeat the amendment to the Sundry Civil Bill. He has avowed that he will kill the Army Reorganization Bill, if he has a chance, and the course toward the $20,000,000 appropriation to pay Spain under the treaty is another instance of his determination.

These would be strong assertions were they not borne out by statements made by Reed himself, and made at a place and upon an occasion when he knew they would be conveyed directly to the President. It was not thought he would go so far as to attack a treaty obligation. The occasion referred to was a dinner party at which a Cabinet member was the guest of honor, and Reed one of those invited around the table. The Speaker gave vent to his feelings in a ner, and his words startled those who heard him.

out these policies were extravagant, and that the House would never consent to the adoption of measures looking to carry out these plans.

All this started a new topic of disussion in Congressional circles. This is nothing less than opposition to the reëlection of Reed as Speaker of the next House. If an extra session called, there will not be much time to organize the opposition, but if Congress does not assemble until December it is safe to predict that Reed will not be elected Speaker without a struggle. The administration is not a party to this move, but administration leaders on the floor of the House are taking the matter up and questioning the policy of electing a man Speaker and putting such power in his hands as the Speaker holds when that man is op-

This find is entirely in Ameri-can territory, as has always been accepted heretofore, but in the present ondition of affairs in the north there is no reason to believe that there may be a changing of lines without the formality of notification to Americans. Gov. Brady, who made application or a force to take care of the interests of Americans there, has been informed hat there will be many men who had contemplated a visit to the Atlin dis-trict, who will transfer their effects to the Porcupine country. This mean that this entirely American territory will be given over to development op-erations soon which will make it, if the gold finds are as consistent and reg-ular in the future as in the past, a rival of the Klondike country.

Recent arrivals at Lynn Canal ports who have come out over the Dalton trail say they have found that there has been a change in the boundary lines which have heretofore stood for a gen eration. His Election Considered a Great Republican Victory.

Meeting of the National Assembly at Versailles-Faure's Successo Greeted With Mingled Cheers and Jeers by the Populace.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PARIS, Feb. 18.-M. Loubet has seen elected President of the French republic. The official count showed that 812 votes were cast, and that M. Loubet received 483, M. Meline 279, and were scattered.

After the announcement of the re-sult. M. Chauveau and many members of the assembly repaired to an ad-joining salon, where M. Loubet awaited them. The result of the election was ommunicated to him, and he received the congratulations of his friends.

The newly-elected President promised to devote his best efforts to fulfilling the wishes of the country, and to "reunite the republicans who have nappy events."

M. Loubet's remarks brought forth vely applause from his hearers. The Premier, M. Dupuy, then formally transferred the executive power to M. Loubet, and congratulated him upon his election.

The President, in thanking M. Du-puy, expressed the hope of having the support of the cabinet. The Senators and Deputies then filed past and shook hands with the President, who afterward received a deputation of news-paper men, and through them appealed to the whole press of the country to work in unison and appeasement.

M. Loubet left the palace in a carriage accompanied by M. Dupuy, and followed by the ministers. The crowds along the route acclaimed President Loubet with cries of "Vive la repub-lique!" "Vive lux armée!" and "Vive Loubet!"

At 5 o'clock Versailles had resumed its normal aspect.

LOUBET'S CAREER. Emile Loubet whe, until his election to the Presidency today, was president of the French Senate, was born at Marsanne, on December 31, 1833, was educated for the bar and began his practice at Montenidar. He entered political life in the general election of 1876, when he professed himself expenses. 1876, when he professed himself a Re publican and opposed to general and complete amnesty. He was elected by a great majority and at once associated himself in the Assembly with the Re-publican left. He was one of the Deputies who refused a vote of confidence to the De Broglie ministry in 1877 After having been elected twice in the Assembly, he became a candidate for the Senate from his old department and was elected in 1885. He became a member of the first Tirard ministry, which only survived for three months, holding the position of Minister of Public Works. When M. de Freycinet de-clined to undertake the presidency of the council he was intrusted with the reconstruction of the ministry and took the position of Minister of the Interior, from which M. Constans had retired in 1892. PROVINCIALS PLEASED. Telegrams received from the prov-nces show, that the announcement of M. Loubet's election has been received with satisfaction. SATISFACTION AT WASHINGTON.

DUPUY ASKED TO REMAIN [ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] PARIS. Feb. 18.-President Loubet has asked H. Dupuy to retain the Pre-miership and the present Cabinet.

THE NEW PRESIDENT.

His Election Was a Great Republican Victory.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
PARIS, Feb. 18.—[Special Cable Letter. Cipyright, 1899.] This election by a single ballot and by Republicans only, is the greatest Republican victory since Grevy's walk over the course.

The new Premier comes from a part mar, in the south of France. He is there most popular and every one Montelimar counts himself a perso friend of Lubet, who, as Mayor, County Councillor, Deputy and Senator, always acted as the servant of the people. Obliging to his neighbors he was as accessible as Genh. Grant or Lincoln. and was not less unpretending. His and was not less unpretending. His thick-set figure, massive and somwhat Roman, though homely head, indicates a steady, sturdy character, who can mail his colors to the mast, but only fights when there is good occasion. Lie belonged, under the empire, to the Re publican party, then calling himself a Liberal. In 1870, he threw himself into the national defense current and stood by Cambetta. He was elected County ncillor in 1871, then Mayor, and, ir 1876, was sent to the Chamber of Depu-ties, where he sat between Mm. Henry and Martin, the historian. Accepting Thiers's leadership, but favoring the scheme to declare Grevy his political heir and to reconcile Gambetta with both, he seemed to bide his time and was ni no hurry to push forward. Me-Mahon's government gave his prominence in dismissing him from the Mayoralty of Montellmar in 1877, thus exasperating the Drone Republicans.

M. Loubet, at the legislative elections in 1877 was triumphantly returned. His subsequent candidatures were not opposed, and in 1885 he was returned by Drone as a Senator. In all these ears he was a useful deputy, chiefly working in the committees and speak-ing little. He was the intimate friend of Senator Carnot and of M. Tirard, and in .1888 the latter appointed him Minister of Public Works, in which capacity he carried out a scheme to coney the sewerage of Paris into the St.

Germain forest.

President Carnot asked Loubet in 1892 to for ma Cabinet, but it fell un-der the weight of the Panama scandal, in which some members, albeit not Loubet, were implicated. This administration was marked by the mission of Admiral Gervais's squadron to Cronstadt and the visit of the court of Russia to the flagship Magenta.

M. Loubet was personally innocent f Panamaism, but like M. Carnot and M. Brisson, he thought the sheltering of the accused expedient. He has never since filled other office, save the presidency of the Senate, to which he was first elected in 1896. He belonged to M. Carnot's innermost counsel, and his wife was Mme. Carnot's best friend.

The President is thoroughly demestic and dislikes showy society. He likes to spend his time at home, and is a great reader. He is not rich, nor does he covet wealth and honors. He is strong in financial questions. For many years he lived in an unpretentious flat and dined off a white oilcloth, instead of a tableclath. His hands. figuratively speaking, are clean; but his heard and clothes are untidy, thus contrasting with the late President.

M. Loubet, for having formerly, when Premier, sent jointly with the Foreign Secretary, M. Ribot, Admiral Vervais to Cronstadt, is person grata to Rus-

He was well receivel by tremendous crowds. He arrived by daylight, and had an escort of cuirassiers. The entire absence of haughtiness in his demeanor was favorably remarked.

M. Loubet paid a visit to Mme. Faure on his way home and saluted the corps

f Mr. Faure.

M. Loubet is the right man in the right place. The importance of today's Presidential election for the welfare of French republic and the prestige of France aboard, cannot be overestimated. The issue taken was whether the laws should be paramount, or an irresponsible league—the League of the French Fatherland, in the hands of elerical, monarchical and military agi-

Fairness this, but the Nationalists do not want fairness. They want Dreyfus, guilty or innocent, to remain perpetually at Devil's Island. It was enough that M. Clemenceau supported M. Loubet. The Nationalists declared that the latter should not be President or they would make Paris too hot for honest people to live in.

But suppose Loubet were elected by But suppose Loubet were elected by a large majority, would they set their will above Congress? Yes, they were quite frank. It was to be expected M. de Beaurepaire, that mad man and story teller, would rake up some false-hood against Loubet if possible, more empty than his charges against the Court of Cassation. He showed how little he, himself, believed in his own tittle-tattle by admitting that he doubted not Loubet's uprightness, adding in a peculiar, dishonest way, insinuations against M. Loubet too fatuous for contradiction.

The Libre Parole branded him this morning as a "Panama-Dreyfusite candidate," having the effrontery to remark that he was supported as such by Reinach, Zadac, Capon, the chief rabbl of France and by Dreyfus himself.

The fact is that the anti-Semites' heads have been turned by victories due to the weakness of the government and they thought they could boss France. They won another victory this morning, when Premier Dupuy, yielding to anti-Semitic clamor, gave Herr Frischauer, the correspondent of Neue Freie Presse notice of expulsion from France.

Count Castellane was glad to squeeze himself in a corner of a table beside mine, and as other persons were drinking cheap wine he had the discretion to order a small bottle of cheap wine, too. After lunch all adjourned to the congress.

During the voting the Nationalists attempted disorders. That nefarious mountebank De Roulede, mounted the tribune, and addressing M. Loubet, in the chair, called him a Panamist, and inquired what reply he would make to M. de Beaurepaire's charges.

Loubet replied: "None. Your conduct is beneath my notice. Leave at once that tribune."

When the sitting was resumed, M. Various cries were heard, such as 'Down with forgers,' "Vive l'armée," and "Down with the Jews;' but all these cries were drowned by the cheers for M. Loubet. It was felt that France was returning to her better self.

M. Loubet granted me an interview tonight, in which he said:

"I owe everything to the Republican majority. France and the republic are inseparable. All anti-Republican opinions are free unless leading to acts against the republic. The allies must be judged by their acts, not by their words. I shall govern in a republican sense only. I have given proofs in my long political career that I am neither a place-hunter, ambitious, nor overriding. Brought up in the study of law, I will be its single-minded servant. The New President Received With Mingled Cheers and Jeers.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] PARIS, Feb. 18 .- President Loubet arrived here from Versailles at 5:08 o.m. and was received with military honors. Amid renewed acclamations from the crowds, the President proceeded to the Elysee Palace, in order to pay a tribute of respect to the remains of the late President Faure. He then went to the Foreign Office, where he received the high officials of state and the diplomatic corps.

Many in the crowd saluted the President and cried "Vive Loubet" and "Vive l'Armee," but the shouts of the demonstrators running beside the carriage drowned the friendly salutations. The noise and excitement were redoubled when the carriage stopped at the Elysee. Here two compact hostile groups were massing, shouting and blowing whisties. M. Loubet and M. In opposition to the cries of "Panana" the supporters of the President raised shouts of "Vive Loubet!" At this stage of the demonstration a deachement of mounted cuirassiers appeared and cleared a passage for the President's carriers

INDIFERENT FRENCHMEN. Brief Mourning for President Faure

Anti-Election Gossip.
[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.] NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Paris says that now, since the first emotion and surprise caused by the sudden death of Felix Faure has passed away, there is, conrange has passed away, there is, con-trary to all expectations, not the slight-est trace of agitation or of political ex-citement on the part of the public. Even the sadness, that characterized the crowds at the news of the death of President Carnot, is absent. The appar-President Carnot, is absent. The apparent indifference of Parisians at the loss of the President of the French republic, strikes many close observers with amazement, and is interpreted by the Bonapartists and the Royalists as an indication that the people are tired of a republic and would welcome a change in the régime. Such is the yiew most emphatically expressed this afternoon by Paul de Cassagnac, who, in a conversation in the lobby of the Chamber of Deputies, remarked to the Tribune's correspondent:

"The unseemly haste of the Republicans to elect a new President is a sure sign of the apprehensions caused by the platitudes of the people toward the pretenders. The demonstration that has nightly been taking place at the Nouveau Theatre, in the patriotic drama, "Roi de Rome," may soon be transferred to the streets of Paris. A plebiscite would prove that the French people and the French army are united and true to Napoleonic traditions."

When asked whether he considered the moment ripe for Prince Victor to act and place himself at the head of his followers, M. Cassagnac replied:

"That is more than I can say, at all events, until we know whom the Republicans will choose for their President."

This was interpreted by those who publicans will choose to the defent."

This was interpreted by those who overheard the conversation as an admission that the Bonapartists are by no means prepared for a coup d'etat, which, owing to recent tampering with officers of the army of all grades, effected by the Patriotic League at alleged imperialistic instigation, has accessed grave uneaslness to those Releged imperialistic instigation, caused grave uneasiness to those publicans who still believe that army should be subordinated to

When urged to express an opinion of the likely candidates for the Presidency, M. Cassagnac repiled:

"With the exception of Deschanel, the president of the chamber, all the republican candidates are extinct volcanoes. Loubet has not a spark of energy or vim left. He was, in fact, born an old man. Then there is Freycinet. He is a man who missed his opportunity years ago, but he might serve as a sort of milk-and-water compromise.

"In my opinion the best man the republic could put to the front would be Cavaignac, always bearing in mind that neither Zurlinden, nor Jamont, nor any general would care to personify an atheist republic, about which there is such a strange fatality, for no President has been able to live quietly through the seven years of office prescribed by the constitution.

George H. Clemenceau, when asked by the Tribune correspondent what effect the death of Felix Faure would have on the revision of the Dreyfus trial, said he made it a rule to never to state his ideas in the form of an interview, but in the course of conversation, it was apparent that he felt convinced that if M. Dupuy or any one

No picture of the situation in Paris is complete without the views of such stormy petrels as Lucien Millevoye, the aggressive Nationalist, and Henry Rochefort, the prince of Socialists.

M. Millevoye makes an open bid for a military dictatorship, and, with Rochefort and Cassagnac, is supporting Cavaignac, the former Minister of War for the Presidency. The members of the National Assembly, namely the Senators and Deputies, began to assemble at 10 o'clock and to select their seats.

M. Loubet, president of the Senate and presiding officer, arrived in a carriage at 10 o'clock.
Friends surrounded M. Loubet when he entered the gallery of busts and he said: "If you love me I hope you won't vote for me."

The scene became animated as crowds of people surrounded the doors watching the arrival of members. The palace was closed to the public.
Various political groups held meetings at noon, and M. Cockrey announced that M. Meline had definitely withdrawn his candidacy. The Nationalists and anti-Semites decided not to vote for M. Loubet.

The Assembly met at 1 o'clock. M. Loubet declared the sitting open amid the applause from the Lefists, during which M. Loubet proceeded to draw for tellers.

Apart from these incidents the voting passed off quietly, the members returned to their seats after voting and chatting on the event of the day.

At 2:40 p.m., the ballot was completed. While the checking was in progress the members of the Assembly left the hall and assembled in the galleries and corridors, where they discussed the chances of the candidates.

Orange County Republicans Cauca on the Senatorship. [ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SANTA ANA, Feb. 18.—There was a deadlock in the Republican party of Orange county tonight, occasioned by a mass meeting of the Republicans in-terested in the selection of a United States Senator at Sacramento. The meeting was called by the chairman and the secretary of the County Central Committee, for the purpose of getting an unbiased statement from the party to be forwarded to Senator Jones and Assemblyman Chynoweth at Sacramento, but each of the resolu-tions presented, seemed to be loaded, and the meeting at once descended to strife between the Grant and anti-mently denounced, setting forth that the influence of the political machinery of the State, of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, and of Gov. Gage were pressing the claims of Burns and advocating a conference among the various Senatorial candidates.

As a substitute to this, another resolution was offered, recommending that both Burns and Grant be dropped, and that Senator Jones and Chynoweth be requested to withdraw their support from Grant, and to use all honorable means to elect a Republican who at once will be acceptable to the people, a credit to the State and a staunch supporter of the national administra-

A lively wrangle ensued, during which James McFadden, a close friend of Senator Perkins, openly accused Gov. Gage of using the distribution of State patronage in the interest of Dan Burns's candidacy. McFadden also stated that at this time he did not be-lieve that Grant could be elected, and, after a two hours' "roasting" on both sides, until almost everybody was worn out, some one made a motion to adjourn, which was carried with a storm of ayes, without any definite action being taken toward instructing the representatives from this county. After the meeting adjourned many who had individually indorsed the res-olution denouncing Burns, and suggesting a conference between the various Senatorial candidates, stepped forward to take their names off the same, if the insinuations against Gov. Gage were not eliminated. This was done, and the names remained. This resolution, while not adopted by the meeting will be forwarded to Sacramento.

Attendance in Both House Tame Senatorial Ballot. [ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 18.-Many of the legislators were away today and scarcely a quorum was present in either house. The Senate adjourned until Monday, immediately after the ballot for United States Senator had been taken. The Assembly went through the form of holding an afternoon session, at which a number of bills on the secondwhich a number of bills on the second-reading file were read and amended. The fifty-sixth ballot for United States Serator was a tame affair, although Greenwell changed his vote from Grant to Bard. This gives Bard three votes. There was no demand for a second ballot. The vote was as follows: Barnes, 8; Estee, 1; Bulla, 8; Burns, 20; Felton, 1; Grant, 20; Scott, 2; White (Dem.,) 16; Devries (Dem.,) 1; Rosenfeldt (Dem.,) 1; Jeter (Dem.,) 1; Phelan (Dem.,) 1; Bard, 3.
Adjournment of the joint Assembly was taken until Monday noon.

STATE FUNDS SHORT.

Gov. Gage Sends a Warning Message to the Legislature.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 18.—Gov. Gage sent an important message to the Legislature this morning, regarding the State's finances. It reads as follows EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE Sacramento, Feb. 18, 1899. To the Senate of the State of California: I have the honor to call the attention of your honorable body to the State's finances.

The condition of the treasury is such that, if anything be paid, which the general fund is chargeable with (even if not a single dollar be appropriated by your honorable body at this session of the Legislature,) still, at the end of this year, there will be the enormous deficiency in the general fund of about

I most respectfully direct your atten-tion to this condition of the finances in order to correct the delusive statements that have been put abroad in reference to the piethoric condition of our treasury; and most respectfully urge upon you the great necessity for economy, and that you make only such appropriations as are of the most urgent character; and such appropriations should be made payable only, so far as possible, on and after the first day of January, 1900, at which time there will be an additional installment of State taxes. If there be transferred, at the propertime, to the general fund from other funds, $400,000, then, in view of the fact that some of the existing demands may not be presented, I think it safe to proceed on the basis that, with this transfer of $400,000, we will have on hand sufficient money with which to meet and manage our financial liabilities until the incoming taxes of January next.

until the incoming taxes of January next.

I, therefore, respectfully request your honorable body to pass an act directly authorizing the Governor, for and during this year, when, in his opinion, the necessity arises, to order the Controller to direct, the transfer of $400,000 from other funds to the general fund; and that this amount, so transferred, shall be returned to the fund or funds from which it be transferred as soon as there is sufficient money in the general fund.

While I am directly opposed, as a general proposition, to this transfer of funds, I am confronted by a condition, for which this administration is in no way responsible; and I truet that our finances may be so managed under this administration so as to avoid a repetition of this necessity.

The Spectator voices the general feeling by saying that the news regarding the commission is very disquieting.

The Saturday Review, as usual, finds that the United States is entirely responsible for the hitches in the nego tiations, and adds:

"The Anglo-American commission has been struggling to arrive at an agreement, but the process has not been thus far characterized by an overwhelming desire on the part of Amer-ica to deal generously with Canada. The reputation of President McKiniey's government is, indeed, likely to disappear altogether, in view of the re-port of the War Office maladminis-tration. It is an astounding scandal to find officials who are responsible for the gross irregularities and misman-agement of the war carefully white washed, while a plain-dealing soldier like Gen. Mild Weather in England-Queen's Trip to France.
[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]

LONDON, Feb. 18.—[Special Cable Letter. Copyright, 1899.] The mild weather prevailing here contrasts foribly with the cold weather in the United States.

For some days past the weather in London has been summerlike, and the reports of the terrible weather experienced has been read with amazement. The temperature over the greater part of Europe is fairly high. The Daily Chronicle epitomizes the general feeling with the cry: "God bless the Gulf stream."

The sudden death of M. Felix Faure, President of the French Republic, has not affected the programme drawn up for Queen Victoria's trip to the south of France. She will go to Cimiez unless civil d'scord breaks out.

The attitude of the people in Southern France toward British subjects, however, is still far from cordial, and considerable indignation has been arcused here by the anti-British demonstrations which have been occurring there recently. An English visitor at Nice writes that twice when he attended an entertainment at one of the chief pleasure resorts, on the Jetes promenade, where an actress gives imitations of well-known women, when the curtain was raised displaying Queen Victoria and the band played "God Save the Queen," there was an outburst of hisses and groans and shouts of "Down with the English" from the well-dressed audience, one man, it further appears, breaking forth into a volley of invective against Her-Majesty.

or a portion of the Paristan papers, are largely accountable for President Faure's sad death.

The "gutter" papers have been constantly raking up court incidents reflecting upon members of M. Faure's family, though not affecting the honor of President Faure personally. Only on Thursday last the Libre Parole, attacked the mother of M. Faure's sonin-law with reference to a house which, it is claimed, ehe wants to force the city of Parls to purchase at her own price in order to prolong the Rue Mogdar. The city officials, it appears, found the price exorbitant, and determined rather than pay the sum demanded, to make a bend in the street ofter offering her a larger and more valuable house a few doors off, which she refused. The matter was taken before the Council of State, which decided against the proposition to make a bend in the street. Thereupon the Libre Parole denounced the decision as "jobbery," implying that M. Faure exercised his influence in the interest of his son-in-law's mother. The President was much upset by this attack, foreseeing in it only the opening of a campaign against him.

About the same time Mrs. Barrett had a proposal from a firm of Boston publishers to collect and edit certain letters. She asked his opinion on the subject and Browning replied and advised her to accept, characterising the offer as a "good, straightforward un-American thing," at the same time intimating that American publishers are given to printing incorrect copies and "eking out with suppositious matter, as they did with the book of Dickens," but he adds: "I like the progress of these Americans in taste; their amazing leaps, like grasshoppers, up to the sun."

The engagement of the Earl of Crewe, to Lady Margaret, the youngest daughter of Lord Rosebery, is of exceptional interest in social and political circles, where both of them enjoy unusual popularity. The fiancée is known to her friends as "Peggy," She only recently came out, and has great personal charm any many accomplishments. She will inherit great wealth. On the other hand, the Earl of Crewe is one of the ablest, best looking and richest of the Liberal peers, with a distinguished political future. During the course of the proceedings the Prince of Wales made a very graceful reference to Mr. Gladstone, easying: "I am sure that my wish will be that of the country generally, that the statue memorial may be worthy of him and worthy of our country. A sensation was caused in financial circles by the extraordinary announcement that the Mill Wall Dock Company would pass its dividend owing to the discovery of a deficit of over $1,000,000. INSURGENT BUSHWHACKERS. [ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ports of such skirmishes as those noted above, and the stories of frequent firing by concealed natives upon the American outposts, have conveyed the impression to the officials here that Gen. Otis is being rapidly brought to a pass where he must assume a most vigorous offensive campaign. Although no instructions have yet been sent to him, it is assumed that he will feel justified soon in doing this to prevent the demoralization of his troops and also to make his position tenable in the approaching wet season.

The nature of the country around Manila favors the tactics the natives seem to have adopted after learning that they could not face the American soldier in the open field, and it doubtless will be Gen. Otis's task, just as soo as his reinforcements reach him, to clear them away. Halg a dozen natives concealed in the jungles and firing at long range at intervals could make life unbearable for a whole company of regular troops until they were disloged.

long range at intervals could make life unbearable for a whole company of regular troops until they were dislodged.

Military officers who have had experience in this kind of fighting say that men become panicky, and lose their nerve under this treatment. That is, however, what they must expect, occupying the outposts and trenches miles outside of Manila during the rainy season, protecting the waterworks and strategic points unless a determined effort is made before the country becomes impassable, owing to the rains, to carry the war straight into the interior and chase Aguinaldo's men beyond the range of activity. It is estimated that at the rate of professes now making by the transport Grant the 1809 troops on that ship will land at Manila about March 4. A couple of weeks later the Sherman will arrive with a similar number of troops, and two weeks after that the Sheridan is due with the troops now embarking at New York. Sefore the last of these

Conduct of Secretaries at Funeral of Garcia Criticised.

IA P. BARLY MORNING REPORT.]

HAVANA, Feb. 18—La Lucha, in an editorial, strongly criticises the action of the Cuban secretaries on Saturday, on the occasion of the trouble which occurred at the funeral of Gen. Calixto Garcia, in deserting Gov.—Gen. Brooke and making common cause with the assembly. The paper refers to the letter of Gen. Domingo Mendez Capote, the head of the department of government, who has just resigned the presidency of the Cuban Assembly, because it has been decided he cannot hold the two offices, exonerating Gen. Brooke from responsibility, and says the greatest importance of the action was in the fact that the secretaries were upheld.

The secretaries, La Lucha points out, were present at the funeral in the double capacity of members of the Assembly, and as members of Gen. Brooke's Cuban Cabinet of advisors, and when the misunderstanding arose they deserted the authority to whom they had sworn allegiance.

"If true delicacy existed," says La Lucha, "they would never have withdrawn from the funeral, or having withdrawn, they should have immediately resigned their positions under the authority deserted, especially, as they assisted at the funeral, merely as members of the Assembly."

La Lucha concludes with remarking that the occurrence shows the inexperience, and the nervousness shown, by the secretaries, should not exist in the case of men at the head of the administration and policy of the country.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—A special to the Herald from Washington says that upon the recommendation of Maj.-Gen. Brooke, the withdrawal of American troops from Cuba has been postponed. Gen. Brooke was recently directed to consult with his department commanders in regard to the number of men to be retained in each department to assist the Cubans in preserving peace and order. His reply shows that he believes troops should be continued in the island at least until the Cuban army has disbanded.

Gen. Brooke's recommendation will be heeded by the authorities, but they are extremely anxious to get as many of the regiments north as possible before the rainy season sets in. In any event it will be necessary to withdraw the volunteer regiments, among which is the Two Hundred and Second New York, immediately on the ratification of the peace treaty by the Cortes.

Gen. Sternberg says that he had received no reports from Cuba relative to the health conditions other than those already made public, but he is anxious that as many troops as possible forget that the utter absence of a policy regarding the future is to blame for this trouble. Aguinaldo has flad cause to doubt our good faith.

HOPE FOR THE PHILLIPINES. Capture of Guerrilla Leaders Will

"He used to come to see me nearly every day, just as he went to visit Gen. Merritt. He would ask: 'What is your government going to do with us?' We could not tell him. He naturally believed us liars and cheats. He could not conceive of a powerful nation without a fixed policy. Then he took the outer falsehoods to the world about American occupation."

"Pad he any grounds?"

"None but motives of revenge," was the reply. "I went into Manila, when it was captured, and established our courts. In a week, by proper police system, we made Manila with alf its sub-tropical population as safe as New York. Aguinaldo's infamous falsehoods, about the maltreatment of native women, were circulated to inflame the Filipinos. We had 22,000 men there threw shells with the precision of Mausera. It was wonderful. Whole groups of the insurgents, with guns in their hands to kill our men, were literally effaced. There will not be any serious guerrilla warfare in the Phillippines. If there is, Spanish regiments will be organized, with American officers, and short work will be made of the natives.

"The audaclous bravery of our men—volunteers chiefly, be it remembered—in charging the entrenchments outside of Manila was amazing to the army officers who witnessed the charge. Our men—crossed the open and climbed hills officers who witnessed the charge. Our men crossed the open and climbed hills in the full blaze of rifle fire. They did this as if they had been soldiering all their lives. Nothing more than an or-der was necessary. Off they went. This utter disregard for fear has improssed the natives and Spaniards alike. I predict that Iloilo will be as quiet and orderly as Philadelphia before the month is over. I am glad to hear what President McKinley said at Boston. That will do more for peace than any action of Congress."

CITY CAMPAIGN PROMISES TO BE LIVELY.

Simon Levi and D. C. Reed Agains Capt. R. V. Dodge for Mayor Strong Protest Against Compul sory Vaccination-Large Excursion to Coronado-Fish Records

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 18 .- [Regular Cor respondence.] The city campaign will soon be on. There are fewer absorbing questions coming up for settlement than in former fights, but before election day, it is quite probable that there will be a lively scrimmage after all. Simon Levi's entrance into the fight as a Republican candidate, assures rattling campaign, both before the convention and after. Maj. Reed, a can-didate for reëlection, and Simon Levi are good friends, but that will not prevent a rivalry for the honorable office of Mayor that will wake the echoes. Capt. R. V. Dodge, Democratic favorite, is conceded to be a strong candidate, but the general opinion prevails that either Reed or Levi can beat him, unless some complication arises. The Republican primaries will be held next Thursday, the change from eight to nine wards being first observed in to nine wards being first observed in this preliminary election. The convention will be held on March 1, and the Democratic convention about March 3. Each convention will place in nomination a candidate for Mayor, Treasurer, four Aldermen for the full term, two Aldermen for unexpired terms, five trustees of the public library, two delegates from each of the nine wards, one member of the Board of Education from each of the wards, and two members of the Board of Education to fill unexpired terms from the First and Seventh wards.

A petition signed by 800 residents of this city, comprising parents, citizens, this city, comprising parents, citizens, doctors and many prominent people generally, was forwarded to the Legislature today praying for the repeal of the law requiring compulsory vaccination of school children. This petition is exactly on a line with those sent from Los Angeles and other Southern California cities, praying for the repeal of this law. The opinion is expressed that there are more dangers from vaccination does not render a person immune by any means, while the vaccine virus is frequently impure if not poisonous, to the extent of ruining health in some cases, if not actually causing death.

Points of View.

Points of View.

[San Francisco Bulletin:] The Los Angeles Times, whose editor and chief proprietor is doing good work in the Philippines, gives the people of the islands some good advice. It says: "Sunday's battle, the first between the Americans and the Filipinos, should be the last. Aguinaldo and his foolish followers have made the serious mistake of regarding the Americans as their enemies. In truth, the Americans are their friends—the stanchest friends they have in all the world. The very fact that we have stricken from their limbs the manacles of their Spanish oppressors, which they have worn for four hundred years, should have taught them both to respect and to trust the Americans. That they have not done so is probably due chiefly to the fact that they have been persistently and designedly misinformed as to the character and purposes of the Americans. They have been made to believe that we will be even crueler masters than the Spaniards."

The Times and the Filipinos view the relations the Filipinos and the Americans hold to each other from different points of view. The Times takes what may be termed the high-civilization point of view. One of the doctrines upon which high civilization is based is that there may be such a thing as benevolent despotism. This implies a form of discipline which justifies punishment for the ultimate good of the punished. It is the form of discipline is doing. It is also the form of discipline by which nations belonging to the high-civilization class force the natives of tropical countries to work whether they want to or not. It also bears a close resemblance to the form of discipline by which American slave-holders held their chattles in bondage. The Filipinos, we regret to say, are not educated up to that high standard. They belong to a lower grade of civilization. The Filipinos, we regret to say, are not educated up to that high standard. They

The Filipinos, we regret to say, are not educated up to that high standard. They belong to a lower grade of civilization. The gift is not given them to look into the hearts of men who discipline them and see that they are being disciplined for their own good. In dealing with them we must take their benighted condition into account. We should bear in mind that the unregenerated man is a child of nature. He regards those as friends who seem to be friends, and those as enemies who seem to be enemies.

In one respect the logic of our esteemed contemporary limps a little. The fact that we have stricken from the limbs of Filipinos the manacles of their Spanish oppressors, which the Filipinos have worn for four hundred years, is not conclusive proof that we deserve their friendship. A people who have been oppressed four hundred years are likely to become suspicious of the race that oppressed them. The Filipinos can only judge of the intentions of Americans by their acts. They cannot look into the future and see what we are going to do for them if they accept our beneficent rule. The Filipinos, we should bear in mind, are not acquainted with our history. They do not know with what abhorrence we view all forms of slavery. They probably do not know with what abhorrence we view all forms of slavery. They probably do not know what one-half the naview all forms of slavery. They probably do not know that one-half the naably do not know that one-half the nation once went to war with the other half to free 3,000,000 of another race, who had been born as slaves. If the Filipino's mind was enlightened with these examples of our philanthropy it would receive the chastisement we find necessary to administer with resignation. It would know that when they had ceased to resist our national benevolence would assert itself. While we must regret this incapacity on the part of the Filipinos to appreciate our motives, we should bear in mind that other people in all the periods of which history gives an account have manifested similar mental obtuseness under similar conditions.

Lessere Still Missing.

SAN JOSE, Feb. 18.—No clew to the missing Lessere has yet been found. The creeks have been searched and all efforts made to locate him, but without success. It has been learned, however, that he did not leave here on the early train last Sunday morning. On that date he left his home at 2:30 o'clock a.m., saying he was going to San Francisco. At 6:30 o'clock he was in Suzzello's restaurant and had considerable money. The restaurant people say he had certainly $1000 gold in a sack, some greenbacks and a check. They do not know how much the check was for. He was examining the railroad time tables. If he went to San Francisco it was on a later train. Some people are of the opinion that he did not go to San Francisco, but caught an overland train and has gone back to France, his native country. He was never known to drink.

Drs. Shores' Treatment Cures.

How Drs. Shores' Wonderful Treatment Does Its Beneficent Work Now Understand the For Suffering Humanity. If you have Catarrh, Asthma.

Roaches, Soothes and Heals Every Part of the Mucous Membrane, Curing Invariably All Forms of Catarrhal Diseases of the Nose, Throat, Vocal Cords, Bronchial Tubes, Lungs and Deafness.

Drs. Shores have a national reputation for their success in the treatment of Catarrh and Chronic Disease. Their treatment cannot be imitated, and the results achieved are remarkable. The sufferer from catarrh, in addition to taking constitutional remedies breathes the soothing medication through his nostrils, and the nasal channels open up, the stuffed-up feeling in the head leaves, and he can breathe naturally through the nose again. The dull pains across the front of the head fade away, and the nasal membrane is soothed until the inflammation and soreness are all gone. The bad odor of the breath passes away and the lost sense of smell returns. The dropping in the throat is checked; the nose does not stop up toward night any more; the sneezing and snuffing have ceased, and the discharge from the nose grows less and less and finally stops altogether. The disease has been checked and eradicated from the system before it even reached his throat. It has not been driven down into his throat or into his lungs or into his ears, as so often is done by other treatments.

Prof. Jos. Fandrey

Prof. Joseph Fandrey, after a long and suc-ressful practice in rupture-curing in Europe came to America, and located at Santa Barbara. Authough he spoke five languages he was unacquainted with the English. As soon as he could make himself understood in the English language he offered to cure Joe Dover, who had suffered for years. When he suggested to Mr. Dover that he could be cured without operation, injection or detention from his business (stone cutting) that gentleman laughed, saying no such thing had ever been heard of as Curing Ruptre. He finally concluded to put himself under Prof. Fandrey's care, and in a few months, in spite of his hard work, was entirely cured. And from 1892 to the present day he has been perfectly free from all symptoms of rupture. This was Prof. Fandrey's Sirst patient in America, and he laughed at the professor at that time, but now after hundreds, have been cured no one diares to laugh. Prof. Plandrey never did nor will guarantee to cure. Who have been cured. THE MIDWINTER TIMES.

Reviewed by a Newspaper of the Empire State.

[Johnstown (N. Y.) Democrat:] The Midwinter Number of the Los Angeles Times is a very attractive publication of nearly one hundred pages and is devoted to the varied interests and attractions of Southern California, which has been very aprily termed the Italy of America.

tractions of Southern California, which has been very aptly termed the Italy of America.

It presents in picture and story the wonderful development of that glorious land of sunshine, which was regarded not many years ago as a most unpromising field for agriculture, into a veritable Eden, where intelligence and industry have converted the arid plains and mountain sides into gardens, orchards and vineyards of teeming fertility, and whose citles and villages have become noted far and wide for their beautiful homes and health resorts, where the strong as well as the weak may seek happiness, health and wealth amid scenes which charm the visitor and win him from his home in severer climes to come and take a dwelling under the cloudiess skies and amid the flower-decked fields of nature's favored Land of Promise.

Los Angeles is a city of upward of 100,000 souls, and around it clusters cores of smaller towns and villages, built up by the treasure-seekers who have found in the orange, lemon, grape and edive, as well as in the cereals and herds, a source of wealth more sure and abundant than the mines, which set the tide of emigration toward the Pacific Coast fifty years ago.

To give the figures of increase in population and wealth and the statistics of production published by The Times would astonish even a metropolitan expander.

Let it suffice to say that the Federal census of 1880 gave Los Angeles a population and wealth and the state of 1880 gave Los Angeles a population and wealth and the state of 1880 gave Los Angeles a populat

New York was walking aimlessly through the graveyard in a little village through the graveyard in a little village in Connecticut. It was a dreary looking place. The few trees which had been planted there by the friends of those sleeping underground were bare of leaves, and the wind made their branches rub together with a sound which suggested Irving's description of the haunted tree at Sleepy Hollow. The commercial traveler was about to seek a more cheerful scene for the continuation of his stroll when he caught sight of a man carrying a spade coming through the little gate which was reserved for pedestrians, the other and larger entrance being used by those who rode in carriages—or otherwise. "Business pretty brisk around here?" asked the drummer, throwing away his the drummer, throwing away his and joining the man with the spade.

"Not very," replied the man, as he bent to measure off a parallelogram 8x 4 feet. "Only two funerals since August, and one of those was a baby's, so I only got half price for diggin' the

"Yes, that's Si." answered the grave-digger, throwing up a very large shov-elful of dirt which came near landing on the patent leather shoes of his ques-tioner.

"But I didn't know he was dead," said the drummer. "I was in his son's place this morning, and —..."

saw advances about a yard in that time.

The new saw has been at work in the workshops of the Champs Elysées for several months, and has given every satisfaction. It cuts and dresses the stone on all sides and gives it sharp outlines. Moreover, it does so nt one-eighth, to one-tenth the cost of hand labor. A saw of this kind with an alternative movement, sawing stones four to six feet high, is to be set up. Evidently this new implement has a future before it and may be recommended to the attention of stone-cutters in this country, especially the population and wealth and the statistics of production published by The Times would astonish even a metropolitan expander.

Let it suffice to say that the Federal census of 1880 gave Los Angeles a population of 11,311. Now it is nearly tenfold that number, and in that time the school has been from 1522 to 22,700.

The total population of that section of Southern California of which Los Angeles is the center is estimated at 300,000, and the productions of its soil amounted last year to over $15,000,000, of which citrus fruits alone yielded $5,000,000, petroleum $2,000,000, but read cheese, beef, mutton and pork $2,000,000, wine, beer and minerals nearly $1,500,000, giving altogether an income of $250 from these products alone to every family in that section of the State.

Even greater things are in store for the future, as a new railway line crossing the undeveloped country between Sait Lake City and Los Angeles will shorten the distance between Chicago and the Pacific Coast nearly three hundred miles, making it the terminus of two transcontinental lines and the rival of San Francisco in the Coast trade, while the interoceanic canal that will soon be constructed will give that town the supremacy in trade over all of its rivals from the Isthmus of Panama to Puget Soind.

Truly the City of Angels is to be envied for the gifts of gods and men which have made her queen of the land where earth and sea and sky join in an eternal benediction to the sons of men.

FOREHANDED GRAVE-DIGGER.

Provision Made for Si Johnson in the Cold Connecticut Winter.

[New York was walking almiessly through the graveyard in a little village through the graveyard in a little village through the graveyard in a little village that the faction to which the introducer made known, that an ember many introduced in the future. This is quite out of the production to the sons of men.

call turning upon the relative strength of the faction to which the introducer belongs.

That there is truth in the contention there cannot be a doubt. But it is questionable if the remedy proposed will reach the disease. The leaning of this man or that, of this faction or that, toward any measure introduced, whether its paternity is printed upon the face of it or not, cannot long be concealed. And as soon as the fact is disclosed that the representatives of the one faction or the other favor the measure, the opposing elements will at once take position against it, as they now do.

A better scheme is within reach of the people. It consists in sending a different and better class of men to the Legislature, men who will not subordinate the interests of the people to political advantage, men who would scorn to oppose a measure obviously wise and desirable, for no better reason than that it was fathered by a political adversary; men who will be true to their party when their party is right, and sufficiently courageous to oppose their party when it is obviously wrong.

gust, and one of those was a baby's, so I only got half price for diggin' the grave."

The business of the grave-digger was not exact? what the drummer had referred to, but he let the matter drop, and, seating himself on a large flat stone in the vicinity of the parallelogram, watched the progress of excavation with apparent interest.

"You haven't a very imposing array of munuments in this cemetery," he remarked, casting is eye over the few rows of plain, moss-grown headstones, from which here and there a slab of clean, shining marble plainly told the story of its late arrival.

"No, we haven't a very attractive place here," the grave-digger reluctantly admitted. "You see, the folks in this town are mostly poor, and those that ain't poor are too stingy to invest in marble statuary for their monuments. Only about one family in ten thinks of giving me even a drink," "Than't s rather cold work you're doing," he said, "better have a drink." "Thank ye, sir," said the grave-digger, handing back the bottle.

The Energetic Promoter of Dr. Sanden's Great Electro-Medical Invention Determined to Fight to a Finish.

The readers of The Times were last week treated to an advance copy of a circular that Dr. McLaughlin, the Western representative of Dr. Sanden's Electric Belt was about to address to the physicians of this city and coast. The following has since been received for publication:

> 204 South Broadway, Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 18, 1899.

To the Physicians of the Pacific Coast: GENTLEMEN-It was without my personal knowledge

GENTLEMEN—It was without my personal knowledge and desire that this paper published a circular letter I was about to address to you. The publication, however, obviates the necessity of sending it.

Now that the ball has been started rolling I am willing to bowl it further along. I again ask: What have you to say? Have I stated the case correctly? Are you trying to suppress Dr. Sanden's invention for the suppress Dr. Sanden's invention for the benefit of humanity? or is it on account of the narrow, selfish fear that your incomes are in danger? How much longer do you suppose you can keep the world in ignorance of what can be done for human suffering by this practical method of applying vital electricity? Is not your policy short sighted. After thousands have obtained relief by Dr. Sanden's Electric Belt will not the knowledge thereof gradually percolate through all strata of the community? And are you not driving nails into your own financial coffins?

The prudent policy would be to accept the inevitable gracefully and co-operate with the new order of things. I make no claim that Dr. Sanden's apparatus can supplant all medicines and all doctors. You are daily saving people from premature death or chronic invalidism by prompt and proper medication, and you must always continue to do so. The one and only practical application of electric currents is not advertised as a cure for all diseases. Its principal efficacy is against troubles of a chronic nature and of the nervous system, in which, as you know, drugs are a notorious failure. But even in these cases it must be used under directions of a competent physician. These directions I am now compelled to issue direct from my office, upon diagnosis made upon careful statements of patients. You would be justified in asking a fee for prescribing and directing the use of Dr. Sanden's Electric Belt. I must admit, however, that you would often have but one fee where now you have ten or a hundred.

But can such considerations cause you to ignore your

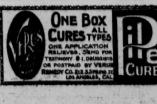

Come! Be manly and honest to yourselves! Is it not better to face a disagreeable situation and make the most of it, rather than to avoid it until it grows much worse?

And, leaving out this point of view, have you the HEART to cause your afflicted fellow-creatures an expense of $50 or $100 when perhaps one-tenth of that amount will secure the restoration of health through electricity?

It is true that such morals are common in the commercial world. Many a tradesman will sell an article at the very best price he can get, even though a competitor may be offering the same thing for one-half or one-third as much. It's all right as long as the buyer doesn't know. But is there not a higher, more dignified standard for the medical profession? Respectfully, DR. A. McLAUGHLIN.

TASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18 .- Tonight's acing at the Mechanic's Pavillon was he best during the week. The attend ance was large, probably 6000 specta-tors being present, when the first short distance was called. Much interest attached to Harry Elke's five-mile ride against time, pace by Fournier's motorcycle. Elkes is looked upon as the man most likely to defeat Jimmy Michael at middle-distance races, when they shall meet in competition. Elkes has become a prime favorite with San Francisco audiences: his splendid style, and apparently un-limited speed, has made him the best ettraction during the week's entertain-ment. Tenight he rode five miles in 9:32, which is announced as the indeor record for the distance. Elkes has lowered a record at each start since he arrive

Michael beat out his pacemaker by fifteen yards, and to all appearances could have made the mile in much less time, had he been paced faster. POPULAR BACING.

Tandem events have become the most popular style of racing, the California team. Downing and Cetter, carrying everything before them tonight in easy fashion.

The "endurance men" are plugging away, though manifestly very tired. Glmm seems to be out of it as far as the first three positions are concerned. He left the track for two hours tonight, and lost second place to Aronson, who is riding strong-and fast, and is rapidly dropping down toward Hale ard Fredericks. The little Swiss is the strongest rider at the track at present, and may finish as good as second place. Miller continues to increase his lead, and as he is riding fairly strong, has first place to a certainty.

Hale will probably secure third or fourth position, which is much better than he did in New York recently.

the contest by a wider margin than ever before.

Hale, although out of his senses at times, plugged steadily. He fought hard for the fourth place all day with Fredericks. Hale is very popular.

Fredericks had a had fal, caused by a man running over the track. He was allowed four mi'es and four acts lost, through the accident. Nawn and Barnaby, members of the same term of Fredericks, all three being trained.

Fredericks, all three being trained Pop Elkes, will land seventh and eighth positions.

INTERESTING SPORT.

The short races tonight were interesting the Australian pursuit race being especially the Australian pursuit race being especially so. Downing and Cotter, the San Jose team, made a most meritorious win over the Turville brothers of Philadelphia and Coulter and Stevens. The teams started at three points in the track. The mile and five-eighthe required to close with and pass the two other teams was ridden in 3:31.

PLUCKILY PLODDING.

nghting the battle of their lives for supremacy. Five others had left the track for the time being, plucky and out of position, but willing to fluish the week for the sake of their reputations, as they know no such word as quit.

Pierce did quit adtogether, but after a good long rest in his dressing-room, he begged to be allowed to go on and finish the contest. This he will probably do later in the day, when, by good riding, he will try to get up into the prize list, which includes the first eight men, from which he has been ousted, position by position. Tom Barnaby and Pilkington enjoyed the real fighting of the night. Both are after eighth position, which they compelled Pierce to vacate.

Gimm has lost first place because he could not hold it against Champion Miller. He has been or and off his wheel too much, and has been troubled with bad hands of late. Aronson is going to push Gimm all day for second position, and bets are being freely made that the big Swede will reach the goal. Ten thousand people attend the contest now daily.

LOOKS LIKE MILLER.

LOOKS LIKE MILLER.

LOOKS LIKE MILLER.

It looks like Miller would win the race, but Aronson will be a big factor at the finish. Louis Gimm has gone wrong and has lost the power in his less. He is trailing around the track at a slow gait, while Aronson maintains a fair average speed and is slowly overhauling his nearest competitor, at the same time cleaning on Miller, who leaves the track frequently to have his ankle cared for. The ankle is bothering the champion continerably.

The ankle is bothering the champion centili-erably.

Frank Weller, who is training Aronson, says that the rider should land the first prize. The big Swede is the most patient of the twelve men now on the track. Pierce left the track early this morning, after going 1802 miles. Pierce says that the hard aprinting early in the contest killed him off, and that there is no power in his lass to carry him through to the finish. He is not discouraged, but charges his poor showing to the early scrinting.

All of the other riders show fair form and ride well. There is a little delirium among the riders accasionally. Hale has been to San José and back in his mind. He found the toads fair, but complained of the hills that required climbing. These bills were the banks of the track. Once Hale dismounted to walk up, and was stopped only in time to save a fall for the others. Aronson has asked once or twice tody when the race will start.

HOOSIER LADIES IN TOWN. An Experience That Came Very Near

[Indianapolis Sentinel:] Two Indianapolis ladies had an exciting ex-perience last fall, and one which has taught them to look before they leap. They were in New York on a shopping expedition, having several hours to wait between trains, and they had gone about until they each had a large stock of bundles. Both were hungry, and decided it was time to find a good café and eat. Now, neither of these women was at all brilliant. They were simply, good, honest little women who read the woman's depart-ment and the recipes in the paper, and who skip all the editorials and other exciting things.

"I have heard my husband speak of a place here called Delmonico's," said one. "I believe that must be a good restaurant, for I frequently read about soups and things prepared by Delnonico's cooks."

Her friend had heard of it, too, and so they hunted up that famous café. They entered unsuspectingly, and the head waiter showed them a table, while another waiter took their bundles. They were so hungry that they smiled with delight over the good things on the card and never thought of looking at the prices. They ordered a good dinner lavishly. It included soup, fish, diner lavishly. It included soup, nsn, a roast, a salad and several entrées, to say nothing of dessert. The waiter bowed to the ground and disappeared. Then one of them took the card in her hand once more.

"What's this?" she said. "Here are the prices.'

They began to add up what they had ordered. It was $27 worth. They gasped and took out their purses. They had hardly 27 cents between them "What are you going to do?" asked one.

The other looked at her bundles. "I am going to cut and run, as the boys say," she said. "We can never pay for it and they may arrest us."
With that she got up, sneaked her bundles out of the rack and went bundles out of the rack and went swiftly and silently past the head waiter, who fortunately did not notice her. The other woman turned all colors. What should she do? No one was looking. The awful head waiter had his back turned. She reached for her bundles and sneaked out also. Outside she was so afraid they would come after her and call her back that she actually ran as fast as she dared up Fifth avenue. Ahead of her she saw a second woman also on a run. It was her friend and they ped until they were safe from that

GOLF MATCH BY LOS ANGELES AND PASADENA CHAMPIONS.

The Pasadena Man Wins the Game Easily—Great Interest in the Match in Both Cities—Prospect of a Good Dividend for Creditors

PASADENA, Feb. 18.-[Regular Correspondence.] A big brake loaded with golf enthusiasts of the Los Angeles Country Club and several other rigs drove in from Los Angeles today to join the crowd at the grounds of the Pasadena Country Club, drawn by the great golf match for $100 between Willie Way, the professional of the Pasadena Club and Grindley, the Los Angels Club and Grindley, the Los Angels Club and Grindley, the Los Angels Club and Grindley. geles Club's trainer. Play began at 10 o'clock this forenoon with a large concourse of ladies and gentlemen at the links. Some seventy of the more devoted ones followed the two players entirely around the links. B. O. Bruce was referee for the Pasadent Club and Mr. Sartoris for the Los Angeles Club. When Willie Way won the first hole in 3, thus giving him an honor, the Pasadenans were in high spirits. hTe second hole was halved, the third hole won by Way, the fourth by Grindley, the fifth and sixth by Way, the seventh by Grindley, and so on till at the end of the first 18 holes, at noon, Way was far in the lead, with 7 up. In the afternoon, the play continued in about the same ratio, Way, however, taking some advantage of his lead and easing up a bit. The game ended at the thirty-sixth hole with Way 11 up. The Pasadenans were confident before the match that their champion would win, but they did not expect he would gain such a propounced victory over Grindley, who is a fine player. They are in high feather tonight.

Grindley, who is a fine player. They are in high feather tonlight.

Way's play was brilliant all through the game, his driving being phenomenal and placing him in the front rank of the golf cracks of the country. Once, he drove the ball from 200 yards off of the green and laid it well up to the hole, setting his backers almost wild with delight. Grindley played all the way through at a disadvantage. He is not in the same class with Way, who is the longer, heavier player. In point of accuracy, however, they were pretty evenly matched. Way's advantage was somewhat offset by the fact that he had been ill and had not practiced for a week. The return match of 36 holes will be played next Wednesday at Los Angeles.

THE LAZENBY FAILURE.

THE LAZENBY FAILURE. THE LAZENBY FAILURE.

It looks as though the creditors would come out of the failure of Lazenby & Son, the grocers, very well. Stock-taking was finished today, and it was decided that it would be better to sell the store than for Col. Lazenby to endeavor to run the business. Accordingly the creditors will make the best disposition of the goods they can, and the Lazenbys will retire from business. The total indebtedness is about $3200, and it is thought the stock and the good accounts will realize almost that amount, so that the creditors most that amount, so that the creditors will get nearly 100 cents on the dollar. There are many poor accounts. Reck-ess crediting and the trading-stamp less crediting and the trading-stamp scheme are what brought trouble to the Lazenbys. They had been in trade here about two years, at first doing business in a small way. When the trading-stamp scheme came along, they were the first grocers to push it, and for the first few months it was reported that they were doing a big business. They gave the other groceries a rattle for a while, but the catastrophe came quickly. Col. Lazenby served as lieutenant-colonel of a regiment through the civil war.

S. Redfield, amounting to about 300,000 feet, will nearly all of it be used in the construction of two of the rock-carrying barges which are now building at Terminal Island. The contractors will not be able to build any more barges till they get more lumber, and that may be a rather long time ahead. A letter received Friday from the Puget Sound country, where the lumber is to be got out, announces that there has been a heavy fall of snow, which will hinder the cutting and milling of the lumber. The two barges now building are to be the ones fitted with water compartments on the port side of each so that the flooding of the compartment in each case will cause the barge to tilt and discharge its deckload of rock. If the plan does not work well the barges may still be used for the top course of big rock on the breakwater. That kind of rock will have to be hoisted from the barges piece by piece. Another carload of hoisting machinery arrived today, making two that have reached here.

This call stirred up the Republicans to the extent that later in the day the following petition was prepared and circulated, being signed by over fifty Republicans of the town:

"Third—We think it would be dangerous and therefore unwise for the followers of Grant, Bulla or Barnes to break up and scatter without some well defined concert of action that would obviate the danger of any considerable number going to Burns, and we are therefore of the opinion that the best interests of the party demand a conference among the followers of the various candidates with the view of agreeing on some one who may worthily represent the Republican party of this State.

"Fourth—The fact that the influence of the political machinery of the State, the Southern Pacific Company, and the Governor are pressing the claims of Mr. Burns in controvention of the will of a great majority of the people and of the interests of the Republican party and of the State, only add to the reasons why he should be defeated, and we ask that you exert your best efforts to this end."

SENTENCED TO LIFE IMPRISON-MENT.

Manual Fellows, the confessed murderer of old man Dorores Garcia at San Juan Capistrano, was today sentenced to life imprisonment in the State penitentiary at San Quentin. The crime was committed on the evening of June 16, 1897. Fellows had been drinking strong brandy for several months, and for a week or more had been in a beastly state of intoxication. On account of some imaginary grievance he went to Gorcia's place of business about dusk on the evening of June 16, and when the old man came to the door, Fellows shot him through the head with a Winchester rifle.

Judge Ballard today, in commenting upon the case, stated that it had neverbeen clear to his mind that the murder was a premeditated one; that when the case was first tried by a jury and the verdict of this jury was murder in the first degree, there was no alternative for him but to pass the sentence of death upon him, and fix the date of his execution; that in hearing the evidence in the case again, he still had the same doubt in his mind, and, consequetly, he would give the defendant the benefit of this doubt. He would, therefore, sentence him to the State's prison at San Quentin in this State for the remainder of his natural life. Fellows was apparently moved Manual Fellows, the confessed mur-

The propositoin of a bonus of $5000 and a suitable site for the cannery building was formally made to the representatives of the company and, after an examination of the several sites proffered, they expressed themselves as satisfied with the offer. They returned north today, expecting to bring the matter before the board of directors of the company in a few days for final action. As Col. Cutler, one of the representatives present, is president of the company, and seemed so well pleased with the business outlook here, no fear is entertained that the city's liberal offer will be declined. The company will take immediately steps toward building the cannery in time for the handling of this year's crop of fruit, just as soon as the board of directors take final action accepting the proposition.

The question of the election of a United States Senator was freely discussed. Rupture And Trusses cause eventual memory, indifference to amusements and stirring recreations necessarily conducive to health and the prolongation of life.

Rupture And Trusses cause kidney and biadder affection, among the most deplorable of which is Bright's diseases of the kidneys.
